

Another chance to win an A-Z + Cabbie's Mate Sat Nav unit!

EXCLUSIVE COMPETITION

Cabbie's Mate Satellite Navigation unit!

Thanks to those wonderful people behind this excellent sat nav, and to the response we received from readers in the competition published in our last issue, we have another Cabbie's Mate to give away in a simple competition.

Developed by KnowledgeMaster after comprehensive research with the trade, the company is continually striving to improve Cabbie's Mate both technically and in the information it provides to the working cab driver.

Cabbie's Mate incorporates both GPS enabled 'A-Z' mapping of super scale central London, Greater London and the United Kingdom together with a sophisticated GPS navigation system covering Europe.

With a vast database of over 17,000 'points of interest', speed camera alerts and switching between applications and searching made fast and easy by the incorporated predictive keyboard and text, it is sat nav system certainly worth having.

The unit also has Bluetooth for wireless connection to a mobile phone, either through the Cabbie's Mate or tuning to an FM radio in the cab thus providing a hands-free telephone operation.

The 4.3" screen provides a realistic visual map display with a day and night mode and the voice instructions are loud and clear. There is a searchable street index with house numbers and postcodes for the whole of the UK. Data updates can be downloaded from the company's website - www.navigationmaster.com - and is where further information on the product can be obtained.

Cabbie's Mate is priced at £295 inc VAT and comes with a 1 year manufacturer warranty, but you can win one in our easy to enter competition!

Question: How many points of interest are stored in the database of Cabbie's Mate?

Just send your answer to the question above to Cabbie's Mate Competition 2, TAXI, Taxi House, 11 Woodfield Road, London W9 2BA to reach us by the closing date of Friday 18 December 2009. Please include your contact details. The winner will be drawn at random after the closing date. Our normal competition rules apply. Good luck! TAXI
